IFA recognises its members with President's awards and Fellowships

At its annual conference at Auckland the Institute of Financial Advisers (IFA) made one Fellowship award recognising outstanding contribution at national level and five Presidents Awards recognising volunteer service to the Institute at a local or committee level.

Fellowship awarded

IFA Fellowship awards are made from time to time to selected members who the Board and Council recognise as having contributed significantly to the profession and given special service to the Institute for more than 10 years.

The Fellowship was awarded to Nigel Tate CFP<sup>CM</sup> CLU, Hamilton for his contribution to the IFA at every level from Branch and Committee to Board, Council serving as President and representing IFA internationally.

Presidents Awards

Five President's awards were also made at the IFA Conference. These were in recognition of the quiet achievers who have dedicated their time, energy and intellect for the common good of the IFA and the financial advice profession.

IFA President Michael Dowling said, “The Presidents awards are awarded to members who have earned the respect and gratitude of their peers for their service to the Institute.”

The five recipients of the Presidents awards were:

- Steve Tutbury, Hawkes Bay
- Paula Margot, Canterbury
- Vivecca Robinson, Canterbury
- Mark Sheehan, Nelson.
- Tracey Coxhead CFP<sup>CM</sup> CLU, Tauranga
